DISCOVER THESE RESTAURANTS DURING THE EASTER WEEKEND

THE EASTER WEEKEND IS ALL ABOUT WARMTH, COZINESS, DELICIOUS FOOD, AND BEING TOGETHER. COOKING AT HOME CAN BE GREAT FUN, BUT BEING TAKEN CARE OF FOR A CHANGE IS ALSO WONDERFUL. WHETHER IT'S A STOP AFTER A SPRING WALK OR AN ELABORATE DINNER, WE'VE LISTED FIVE LOVELY RESTAURANTS WHERE YOU CAN SPEND EASTER.

THE DUCHESS

During the Easter weekend, the restaurant provides the perfect setting for long lunches and dinners. The famous Chocolate Explosion gets a subtle twist: what starts as a chocolate artwork transforms as soon as nitrogen is added. The shell opens like a flower, revealing a composition of chocolate mousse, crunchy elements, and fresh accents — a dessert that is as much about experience as it is about taste. Not in the mood to search for Easter eggs in the garden this year? Then opt for an Afternoon Tea: tiered stands filled with delicate pastries, delicious sandwiches, and sweet creations in spring colors.

IZAKAYA Asian Kitchen & Bar

At IZAKAYA, the Easter brunch is transformed into an Asian Feast full of contrasts. With the all-day dining menu, you can enjoy iconic dishes that make the restaurant so beloved all day long. Would you prefer a real surprise? Then choose the Omakase menu, where the chef prepares a table full of unexpected delicacies. An Easter egg dessert is a must here too: hidden sweet surprises are revealed as soon as the shell breaks open and warm chocolate touches the surface.

MR PORTER Restaurant, Bar & Lounge

At MR PORTER, it is all about dining together. Throughout the weekend, round off a delicious Easter brunch or dinner with The Fox is Out, a signature dessert that appears at the table in a festive rendition and transforms under a gentle stream of warm chocolate. On Sunday, things go *extra* during the Easter Sunday Roast Feast: the table fills with juicy roasts, side dishes, and plates that invite passing.

THE BUTCHER

Skip the eggs and bake-off rolls: it's time for your favorite comfort food. With the code BUTCHER7, order your favorite guilty pleasures from THE BUTCHER at a discount via Thuisbezorgd during the Easter weekend. Think crispy, juicy burgers and the beloved sides: popcorn chicken, chicken tenders, and chicken wings.
